Friday 17th April 2020

Good evening,

Firstly, I would just like to say that I hope you are all well, staying safe and have had an enjoyable Easter. It certainly has been a strange 'school holiday' for everyone but I do hope it has given us all valuable quality time together with our families.

Recently, I received a 'time capsule' document which I have attached to this email. Many people say that we are currently living through a future history lesson and you may wish to record thoughts, feelings and activities from this time for the future. Please do not feel that you have to complete this document and I fully understand that some families may not have the facilities to print the pages. If there are any parts that you would like to complete or talk about as a family, please use this document to support you.

On the school website, I have created a folder called Chew Initiatives - this can be found under the 'more' tab. In the folder is a short video produced by Claire Wilson, our school's Therapeutic Support Adviser. Claire has offered to produce short, weekly videos for parents during these unprecedented times. The first one is about your child's drawings and what you may have noticed during the last few weeks. Claire has asked for feedback about how useful you feel these videos are and if there are any topics you would like her to discuss. If you have any feedback for Claire, please let us know by emailing office1@pyegreen.staffs.sch.uk and we will forward them on.

On Monday, staff will be sending out new work for children so please check your emails. Please keep in touch with staff at least once a week and ask any questions you may have. We love receiving pictures and work from the children and we are more than willing to support our pupils and their families in any way we can.

Finally, I would like to thank you for the support and kindness that you are all showing at this challenging time – it means a great deal.

We look forward to seeing everyone as soon as we are able to do so.

Take care and stay safe.

Kind regards,

Sarah Yates
